

AIAS FELLOWS' SEMINAR

Autumn semester 2013

Time: 14:15, Aarhus Institute of Advanced Studies, Building 1632, Fellows' Auditorium

9 September Marie Braad Lund, AIAS Fellow

Faithful But Not Enslaved: What drives the genome evolution of microbial symbionts?

16 September Rane Willerslev, AIAS Fellow

Why Human Sacrifice? An exercise in radical cultural comparison

30 September Bent Jesper Christensen, AIAS Fellow

Wage and Labour Productivity Dispersion: the roles of total factor productivity, labour quality, capital intensity and rent sharing

21 October Niels Peter Revsbech, AIAS Fellow

Nitrogen Cycling In Nature: observing microbial processes at a microscale

4 November Anette Bohn, AIAS Fellow

Life Story Development: Cultural life scripts and the organization of autobiographical memories

18 November Jesper Levinsen, AIAS Fellow

The Few-Atom Problem: consequences of quantum statistics and dimensionality

9 December Lotte Phillipsen, AIAS Fellow

Holy Cow! The aesthetic intersection of art and bio-science

